1960 ERINNERUNGEN SOUVENIRS

PUBLISHED BY THE CLASSES OF 1960
AMERICAN HIGH SCHOOLS OF GERMANY AND FRANCE

To the ugly men, the malcontents: Those who are dissatisfied, iconoclasts, Those who destroy the cherished norm:

To the heretics, revolutionaries, rebels:

The eccentrics who fight for their eccentricities,

The men who have died, and will die, for an idea;

To these gadflies of our lethargy,
Who open new directions, prod us along new paths,
Who preserve the individual dignity
of the uncommon man;

Introduction

Since 1949 Etimerungen has grown and divided to facilitate the increasing number of American schools in Europe. The addition of the French Souvenirs to the original German title in 1959 symbolizes the spirit of cooperation and mutual understanding characteristic of American high school education on the European continent.

This year, 1960, Erinnerungen encompasses the American high schools in two different countries in Europe — Germany and France. At the same time, the American high schools in Italy are combining their efforts into one volume entitled Tesoretto, and Munich American High School is developing an individual yearbook. Separate volumes have not meant a separation of goals, but have brought a conscious unity of purpose.

The 1960 Erinnerungen is the memories of sixteen American high schools with a unique heritage. More than a record of annual events, it is a tangible thought, an expression of the rich opportunities which are the everyday experiences of American students living in Europe. It brings the realization of unusual blessings enjoyed as learning to live in a new and different environment has sharpened minds and enlarged souls in preparation for a promising future.

AUGSBURG 14

Our school days usually begin with an early morning bus trip. Some of us come from as far away as Ulm bouncing along the cobble-stoned country roads, through centuries-old villages. Others of us come up Maximillianstraffe, past the Augustus Fountain. Each of us find the bus trip a time to reaquaint ourselves with the roots of many of our American traditions.

BERLIN 78

The Berlin graduating class of 1960 stands before the Brandenburg Gate exemplifying the spirit of the Berliners' traditional love of liberty: each symbolizing the potential of a full future.

The sign in the center reads:

BREMERHAVEN 104

Our school's symbol is the hawk; we consider this bird a symbol of searching and seeking. One of our students has written:

The hawk speeds across the sky, Always searching, always seeking. Never is a moment wasted. Time speeds across an unknown void, Always advancing, never returning. Man's life is a constant race Against the steady tread of the years.

Karlsruhe 134

Our high school is but two years old. It is located in the center of our living area which is called Paul Revere Village. Our American village sits on the forested edge of the city of Karlsruhe, thus providing a tree-spotted playground and a place for walking on Sunday afternoons.

ORLEANS 168

The fountain within Gambetta Circle, not far from Jeanne d'Arc in the heart of the city, is the Trevi and Bakhtchiserai of the city of Orleans. In the winter, it sits like a great waiting seed, bursting forth in the spring; and in the summer and fall the flow of the water sets the pace for our city's activities, offering a focal point for exploring the French environment.

PARIS 224

Through the eyes of a gothic gargoyle that sits on Notre Dame, the spectres of Paris are seen as e'ements in our school yard. The gargoyles have only the stone-hard stares of their creators to see with; we have the passionate eyes that only such a city of music, motion and like can create.

POITIERS 304

Within the circle of being educated in France or Germany or Italy are those vital school contributions to the pleasure of high school life: the exuberance of the game, the intensity of the discussion, the silence of being awed by the answer.

VERDUN 342

WURZBURG 398

800 year old Marienburg Castle, once held by the Prince-Bishops of Würzburg, who were also Dukes of Frankonia, is the Main River jewel set in great vineyards across the river from the Baroque city of Würzburg with its fine churches and splendid palaces.

The armies of a dozen nations in as many as a dozen wars have passed back and forth through the Porte Chausée, symbol of Verdun. The eyes of a thousand fisher-folk have trained their focus upon the River Meuse. There is rarely a student in the Verdun American High School who has not in his mind's eye seen his reflection within the waters of the river and anticipated the nostalgia of remembering his school years in France.

CREATIVE OPPORTUNITUES

ALL HIGH SCHOOL OPPORTUNITIES

This two volume publication of the yearbook containing the stories of sixteen high schools is only one combined expression of our high school students. There are many other cooperative adventures that bring into focus students from all the twenty high schools in Germany, France, Italy and North Africa.

Along with the high school music programs, athletic tournaments, science fairs, leadership programs and yearbook conferences there are both regional and school-wide art and crafts exhibitions, student exchanges within the foreign language programs between host nations schools and the American schools as well as many other unique activities completing a wide range of enriching experiences. These offerings are provided to create a more individual participation in the educational processes while living in the European environment.

THE USAREUR SCIENCE FAIR

program is a means of stimulating interest in the science curriculum for both German and American students and public. The program provides excellent motivation for out-of-class study and more intensive and extensive participation in creative work.

Two hundred and seventy students from USAREUR schools in Germany, France and Italy and including representatives from Navy schools in Italy gathered at Heidelberg American High School, 17 through 19 March, 1960, to display their prize winning science projects.

The USAREUR Science Fair included projects representing every major area of science entered by students from grades five through twelve. Thre grand prize winners, pictured here in a Stars and Stripes photograph, Lucy McCartan of Verdun American High School, Verdun, France and Robert L. Matoy of Heidelberg American High School, Heidelberg, Germany, accompanied by Mr. Harold Price, Science Fair Director, received an all-expense paid trip to exhibit their projects in the National Science Fair at Indianapolis, Indiana.

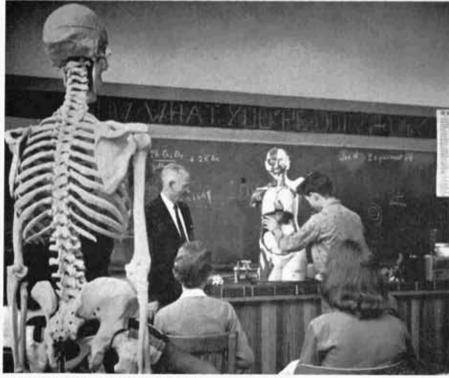

MUSIC PROGRAMS may vary from school to school, year to year, but essentially the joy of group and individual musical experiences created within the framework of Europe, from where so much of our musical heritage grows, does not vary. Pictured above is the Stuttgart American High School orchestra with Mr. Robert Rue, teacher-director. Mr. Rue, like many music teachers, combined the choir, girls chorus, band and string orchestra for musical programs presented in and out of the school. In March, the Maddy arrangement of "God of Our Fathers" was presented by such a combination at Stuttgart.

In France, another music program of distinction was co-presented at the Paris American High School: at Christmas time the combined choruses of the Vocal Ensemble, "A Coeur Joie", of the Paris area; "L'Orchestre Philharmonique" from Puteaux near Paris, and the Madrigal Singers of the Paris American High School under the direction of Mr. Robert Oliveira, music teacher, presented the "Gloria" by the 18th Century composer, Antonio Vivaldi. Everywhere music is being offered, the opportunities are limited only by the range of the instructor.

ART AND CRAFTS programs in the USAREUR high schools are in the unique position of not only being able to utilize the many-faceted traditions within the art, crafts and architecture of all of Europe, but also have a contemporary scene with which to be concerned. The art activities in Europe within the past ten to twelve years have continued, in many areas, to be practical arts. Below are Ann Matheny, Jay Stires and Mark Weakley, students of Mr. Jack South at Munich American High School, who are shown drawing and working on linoleum prints which were planned (as seen on the left) into a calendar. The linoleum cuts were taken to a local Munich printer who printed them into the calendar form. The calendars then were sold by the students to offset the printing costs. Some were given to German schools as a part of a larger German-American student art exchange, traditionally a part of the art and crafts program in many American schools in Europe.

AUDIO-VISUAL MATERIALS AND TECHNIQUES can teach more to more people and in less time. Students and teachers in the USAREUR schools, like their counterparts throughout the world, are faced with rapidly expanding school and classroom enrollments, increased subject matter, and a growing responsibility to adequately prepare for a more complex and technological society. In order to meet these responsibilities, our schools continue to adopt a variety of communication devices that strengthen the teaching-learning process in the classroom — such as motion pictures, filmstrips, tape and phonograph recordings, study-prints, specimens, darts, maps, globes, and models similar to the human torso and skeleton used during one of the biology classes in the Karlsruhe American High School.

ALL-USAREUR BASKETBALL TOURNAMENTS have been an essential part of the health and physical education program in the high schools. This year the USAREUR high school basketball tournament crown was captured by Frankfurt High School with a 48-41 victory at the finals in the Sports Arena in Mannheim, Germany. Andy Woods (46, above) was a big man for Stuttgart under the boards although the Stallion bid to capture the USAREUR top position petered out in the last period. Woods got rebound competition from Frankfurt's Erik Friberg (in air) and Don Ransom (14) during this hotly contested match. This title victory gave Coach George Ausra's Frankfurt Eagles a 14-0 mark for the year, while runner-up Stuttgart finished 15-2.

TO THE 1960 HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES:

It is a distinct pleasure to extend my sincere congratulations to all graduates of the high schools in USAREUR.

Your successful completion of the secondary school program is the goal toward which you have been striving for several years. Either as a member of a military family or by close association with the military, your attainment of this goal has been more diallenging than that of your contemporaries in the United States; for you have made frequent moves with consequent adjustments to different conditions, and to new teachers, friends and school systems. Because of this unusual circumstance, however, the rewards which have come to you are necessarily the richer and more beneficial.

While in Europe you have had the enviable opportunity to travel, to learn European history, customs and traditions first-hand, and to live among people who speak a language other than our own. These opportunities have not only broadened your experience, but coupled with your adaptability to meet so many new situations, have helped you to acquire a solid background for international understanding, while at the same time better preparing you for adult citizenship.

Congratulations on achieving this major milestone in your life, and my very best wishes for continued success in the future.

THE UNITED STATES ARMY DEPENDENTS' SCHOOLS IN EUROPE

On May 4, 1946 the Army established its dependents' school program in Europe. At that time, 3,087 pupils were enrolled in kindergartens, elementary and secondary schools. This year enrollments grew to a total of 59,558 in grades kindergarten through 12, as of 18 December 1959. Over 2,400 Americans and 350 local nationals were employed to staff the 117 schools operated in Germany, France, Italy and Ethiopia. The US Army Dependents' Education Group is the operating agency for the Army schools in Europe. The school headquarters in located in Karlsruhe, Germany. A civilian director administers the program assisted by a staff of educational specialists and military personnel. The schools are divided into seven districts each under the general supervision of a superintendent. The 19 high schools are afforded accreditation by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. An inspection of the schools is made regularly to ensure that high standards are maintained. Schools are equipped with modern teathing aids and textbooks. A wide range of curriculum offerings is provided to meet the needs of individual students. This yearbook is one illustration of the extracurricular opportunities offered.

THE CURRICULUM SECTION of the Dependents' Education Group Schools has established a sound educational philosophy of American public school education with standard curricula and school practices appropriate to the time, grade levels and local school en-vironment. The DEG Curriculum Supervisor, under the administrative supervision of the Deputy Director of Education, works in close cooperation with the Elementary Schools Coordinator and the Secondary Schools Coordinator and the several curriculum specialists on the Headquarters staff. Among many policy duties, the curriculum specialists, in cooperation with principals, district school specialists and teachers, plan and construct grade and high school teachers' guides and courses of study for classroom teacher use. Five curriculum specialists on the Headquarters staff work in the following subject areas of both the elementary and secondary schools: mathematics and science, health and physical education, foreign languages, art and crafts, and music. The social studies, the language arts and the extra curricular subjects are the general responsibility of the coordinators, the curriculum specialists and the curriculum supervisor. The DEG high schools are approved by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

In the shaded dark, a lighter grayness
Seeps from the joining cracks of disparate stones.
A doorway leads into light, a star into the darkness,
And eyes strain into, out of
The arched stone eyes of a monastery.
One feels, listens, and — soundless — hears
The slap of the monks' sandals,
An eon old, an ordered memory.
They were the end of creation, the alpha

Cut off from life, patterned, dull, pervaded by

A vague disquietude replete with Half-forgotten loves and hates expunged from consciousness. They were the God seekers, Theirs was quiet death.

Transportation is a dominant factor in our lives. We journey to the corners of the earth by ship and plane. We co from our homes to school by train and bus; often we have to travel many miles to participate in athletic and oth school events. In the army, jeeps, trucks and tanks are a part of our environment.

Our experience makes us conscious of the ways in which other peoples travel. Here in Germany horse-drawn wago bicycles and sleek sports cars compete for possession of the same cobblestoned streets and autobahns. We find it int esting to compare all the different kinds of transportation. One can learn a lot about people by observing the ways they trav

We have just completed the first journey on the Highway of Life and are now preparing for another, perhaps greater journey. We have endeavored to equip ourselves with the tools necessary to succeed in our coming travels. We know that many obstacles, detours and ruts lie ahead of us. We have reached a fork in the road; the branch we choose will determine our ultimate success. We are confident that we will not fall by the wayside, that we will bring our journey to a successful conclusion.

JUNIORS

Our road is coming slowly to an endnext year we will use the last quarter of a tank of gas to complete our journey. This year, as Juniors, we learned a great deal, not only from books, but from working with each other. We did our best to cope with our problems, and to complete our projects. We had dances, cake and candy sales, and even tried our hands at selling Christmas cards, to finance the Prom. We sincerely hope that we can do well as seniors next year. Now we must step on the gas, push in the choke, and make the most of what we learned in the last three years, to keep the old jalopy running.

So far our life has been like a train preparing for a long trip; we have been fueling-up for the journey of life. Knowlege has been the fuel. Everything that we have learned, every activity in which we have participated will benefit us in the future. Besides our school experiences, we have had the great advantage of being able to become acquainted with the world and its many different peoples. All of these things are part of our education and each will help us go a little farther. Now we are eagerly awaiting our Junior year. We can feel our engines warming up, almost ready to speed off down the track, always forward and faster.

Freshmen, as a class, are on the bottom of the ladder -- only by setting our feet firmly on this rung can we proceed to the next. We have been striving this year to gain a steady foothold and we believe that we have taken the first step. Our sponsors and counselor have pointed out the most secure places and helped many of us to avoid the weak spots. We feel prepared to go on; to be a credit to our school and teachers who have helped us along the way.

Six months in school and the freshmen still look lost!

The coming of September always creates a busy scene around Augsburg High with the mighty men of the Apache team shaping up to meet the for. This year was no different. The Apaches went forth to do battle with their powerful opponents. The cracking of shoulder pads and the yells of rival teams told everyone that the Apaches were on the warpath. The team's hard luck did not dampen their spirits and even yet we hear the cry, "Wait 'til next year!"

BASKET BALL

With winter comes basketball season, and the cry of excited Apaches fans yelling, "Make that basket!" is heard almost every weekend. Although the team is handicapped by the loss of most of last year's lettermen, the boys have the will to win. No matter whether they win or lose, we are sure that our team will gain recognition for a small school with a mighty spirit.

The senior class planned several wonderful activities for the year including our Fasching Ball in February.

Our busy school days began with early morning classes and long bus rides and ended every night with long hours of homework.

We still found time, however, to participate on the Erinnerungen and the "Allerlei", in dramatics and sports. We cheered our football and basketball team to many triumphs.

As we look over the past year at Baumholder, we are sure it has been a year we will never forget.

The Sophomore Class of Baumholder High believes in the old saying "Work for Fun". Their big project for the year was the "Snow Ball". Starting with numerous Class meetings, committees, and fund-raising ideas, the Class of 1962 worked feverishly up to the big night of January 22. They raised funds by selling flowers and corsages. They also sold pencils with the name of Baumholder High School engraved upon them. The Sophomores had quite a struggle, but they remained courageous. Next year and the year after, as Juniors and Seniors, their struggles will grow heavier, but they will remain a class that Baumholder High will be proud of.

On the opening day of the "59" football season the Baumholder Buccaneers fielded a young and inexperienced team to play host to the Wuerzburg Wolves.

The Bucs opened up with a quick first quarter; but the Wolves' passing attack proved too much for the Buccaneers, as they fell in defeat.

The Berlin Bears were the Bucs second opponent. It was a great defensive battle which the Bucs won in the last minute of play on an 80 yard kickoff return by John Route.

The following week-end Baumholder played an aggressive Heidelberg team, but after the half, the charging line of the Buccaneers soon wore down the Lions. The final score read 27-7.

Next the Bucs played host to the Mannheim Bisons for their Homecoming game. They ran rough-shod over the Bisons, downing them 25-13.

Baumholder traveled to Augsburg for their final game. Here the Buccaneers had to cope with rain and cold weather, but this did not stop their power, as they turned a long scoreless first half into a 20-0 slaughter. Outstanding in this game was John Route's 103 yard runback of an intercepted aerial pass. Brilliant on defense was Bob Nelson and Major Patterson, Baumholder's All-USAREUR selections.

American and German girls have a typical teenage chat at Misenheim.

We had a treehouse, Up in a tree. Where else would you think A treehouse would be?

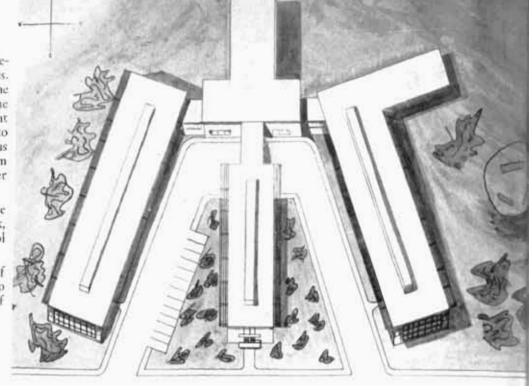

Living in Berlin, we feel the apprehensive eyes of the world upon us. The thought that we have been the only American school behind the Iron Curtain since our establishment in 1946 lends us the incentive to become an example for the curious eyes surrounding us, to show them the truth, the strength of character typical of American youth.

Following the leadership of the native Berliners with their tenacity, pluck, and industry, we have put our school on a par with the best.

Island-dwellers in the red sea of communism, we have endeavored to uphold the honor and principles of Americans everywhere.

Across the Street

There is a famous gate in Berlin Which acts as a tangible barrier Between faiths, hopes and humanities. It is the Brandenburg Tor, It stands for separation — human and political. On one side of this gate lies A fruitful, teeming and industrious city. On the other, a pitifully, unmercifully Run-down town. Yes, it's just a town, now. Its buildings, mere skeletons of the past, A ghost town. No one walks the streets. Why should they? There's no place to go.

SENIOR

As the beginning of a new decade ushers another graduating class from Berlin High School, we recall the many fond memories of our year of "seniority."

We especially remember being "The Biggest and the Best," as our column in the school newspaper was so appropriately named. We knew the Class of '60 was the biggest graduating class in Berlin's recent history and we constantly strove to live up to being "the best."

We remember the ready advice of our senior moderator, Miss Murcott, who helped and supervised us in the various activities we planned for the year. Organizing projects to finance our Cultural Presentations, Senior Class President Kenn Doerksen formed committees both for our bake sales and to decide which entertainment we would attend.

We recall the honors attained by our seventeen classmates as they participated and took honors in many activities offered in The Divided City. Carolyn Weyand, elected Student Council President, led the entire student body through a prosperous and busy year. Kathy Sipos headed the active staff of "The Bear Facts," as editor of our growing high school newspaper. Ken Knott directed the students in extra-curricular activities as president of Berlin's AYA program.

But, sometimes
One might just possibly see
A member from the East
Looking from his dark alley
Into the bright, glowing lights
Across the street.
Children running, playing happily and freely.
And it's just across the street,

A smile might come to his face Perhaps for only a moment But long enough to remember A brief childhood such as theirs.

CLASS

Displaying typical "senior ambition," Marilee Shaw produced and performed in her own program on the AFN radio station. Carol Willoughby lent her administrative proficiency to a hard-working Annual Staff as Editor-in-Chief of Berlin's pages in Erinnerungen; and her loyal support, as co-captain of the Cheerleading Squad. Exciting and profitable sports seasons saw Terrell Gandy, John Corris, and Gordon Rankin on the champion varsity football squad, and Gordon and Terrell back again for varsity basketball. Managed by senior Ed Newland, both teams brought glory to Berlin High with victories over other USAREUR teams. Performing at various functions in Berlin, seniors Nettie Scott and Carol Willoughby were among members of the "Ninettes." We remember our representatives to the Student Council, Connie Bullock and John Corris, who kept us informed of the activities of student leadership so that we might actively participate.

To Berlin High we dedicate the hopes, joys, successes, and future aspirations of a class deeply grateful for the guidance and assistance we always had at our disposal. To the "city of opportunity," Berlin, we express our desire that it remain the symbol of freedom to peoples of every nation, as we prepare to assume our roles as leaders of tomorrow's international destiny.

JUNIORS

The 1959-60 school year was a momentous one for Berlin High and the Junior Class. Juniors have been leaders in all facets of school life, including academics, school service, and athletics.

The vice-president and treasurer of the Student Council were both Juniors. In other school-sponsored clubs, members of the Class of 1961 filled many positions of responsibility. Our fine vocal group, the Ninettes, is composed largely of Junior girls.

Juniors dominated all major sports, including football, basketball, and soccer. Six Juniors were on the starting line-up of our championship football team. Four were elected to the Class C All-USAREUR Team, Basketball, too, found us well represented as four of the varsity five were Juniors. Many enthusiastic Juniors also turned out for soccer. Half of our excellent cheerleaders were Juniors, as was one co-captain. The captains of the football and basketball teams were also from our class.

We had superior leadership from President Jon Trivers, Vice-President Sandy Salisbury, Secretary Narda Anderson, Treasurer Cathy Wildermuth, and Mr. Blunt, our great class sponsor.

With this list of achievement behind us, wearing our new Juniordesigned class rings we hope next year to carry the prestige of Berlin High and the Class of '61 to even greater heights.

SOPHOMORES

The expressions on the faces of the twenty-four new sophomores on September 9, the first day of school, were certainly an indication of the different personalities and attitudes of the various students.

Academically the sophomores are intellectually curious. Credit for our high scholastic average must be given to Ella Sue Bone, who has aided us in raising the class average.

Where talent is concerned, we can boast an accomplished pianist and a blooming thespian, Barbara Buchsbaum. Not to be forgotten are John Shiner, Class President; Frances Smith, Vice-President; Heidi Anderson, Secretary; and Donna Ledbury, Treasurer.

Sports-wise, we offered our enthusiastic cheering, led by Jill Vaughn, and contributed to the football and basketball teams' victories.

School spirit is one thing we do not lack. We assisted in the Christmas Carnival and Orphans' Party with eagerness. All good things seem to happen at Christmas, and for us, the winning of the door decoration contest was a chance to prove our artistic ability and originality.

A forceful campaign for Student Council Secretary ended with Joan Symington the victor.

This history is not a finale to the year, but only a beginning of the molding of the graduating class of '62.

"Great Expectations" was the watchword of our Class of '63 as they entered high school life and assumed important roles in school activities.

Freshmen were found well-represented in practically every student organization. Participating in the activities of our Cheerleading Squad, Judy Deason carried typical freshman spirit as Gary Arnold and Robert Chambers "carried the ball." Ada Lopez made up an integral part of our melodious Ninettes and went on to join Phillip Lear to be Freshman representatives in our hard-working Student Council.

In class activities, Freshmen forged capable leaders in their semester elections, giving everyone an opportunity to demonstrate his ability. First semester officers were Gary Arnold, president; Phillip Lear, vice-president; and Thelma Stephens, secretary-treasurer. To round out the year Phillip Lear, Ada Lopez, and Beverly Hamer served as president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer, respectively.

Socially, the ninth graders put their best foot forward as they held a Freshman Frolic every month and made up a large percentage of our teen dances.

BHS is proud of its Freshman Class and knows it will fulfill those "Great Expectations."

ACADEMIC LIFE

Mr. Bunch checks on the progress of one of the junior English classes as students contemplate Emerson's quotations.

Sagacious seniors solve another problem of democracy under the supervision of their American Government teacher, Mr. Horner, Sophomores add to their comprehensive biology notebooks as Mr. Harper assists them with proper lab techniques.

Frau Shirmer's first-year German linguists take time out from a lesson in grammar to pose for the Annual photographer.

Berlin's mathematicians watch attentively as Mr. Blunt demonstrates a basic trigonometric principle.

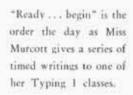

Miss Pietsch makes valuable suggestions to an industrious art class preparing for various Christmas exhibitions. The high school girl's gym class limbers up in exercises before dividing into teams for intersquad games under the direction of Miss Berning.

The chorus works toward the balanced harmony of "Ave Maria" in preparation for the busy Christmas schedule with Mr. Hasbrouck.

President Carolyn Weyard recognizes another proposal for the Student Council Christmas Carnival, the major fund-raising project of 1959.

ACTIVITIES

Hopeful candidates for Berlin's newly organized National Honor Society assemble with their moderator, Mr. Horner,

Members of the literary, art, and typing staffs of the Bear Facts work together on another issue under their sponsor Miss Murcott.

Berlin's busy Junior Red Cross enjoys preparing attractive hospital decorations with the assistance of Miss Marcheso and Mr. Deason as one of its many contributions to the community.

All-American athletes pose quietly for their G.A.A. snapshots, a brief respite from their usual sports activities. Our lovely Ninettes, a group well-known for both voice and vivacity, begin rehearsals with Mr. Hasbrouck for one of their community concerts.

Students use the wellequipped high school library to supplement class preparation, aided by the librarian, Mr. Rosenthal.

Editors and sponsors, Miss Pietsch and Mr. Bunch, discuss a suggestion for the senior layout of the 1960 Erinnerungen with the annual staff.

To the victor go the spoils, General D'Orsa presents the championship trophy to coach James Timmerman and Capt. Sandy Salisbury.

FOOTBALL

into their first season with eleven-man football. Captain Sandy Salisbury, All-USAREUR center for '58, led the Cubs to undisputed first place. Coach Timmerman helped the boys gain offensive and defensive prowess.

Traveling to Karlsruhe, Berlin got their first test of the season. After a scoreless first quarter the Cubs toughened and Tom McKean, defensive specialist, intercepted a pass and ran for a TD. Then Salisbury got started and passed to Bob Ehrmann for six points. Gaining yardage steadily. Salisbury made a goal line plunge for paydirt. The final score for victorious Berlin - 21; for defeated Karlsruhe - 6. Our next contest was an exhibition game against Class B, Baumholder. This was considered one of the Cubs' best games. We led the Buccaneers for over three quarters with the excellent defensive play of center John Corris and guard Allan McGill sparking the remainder of the team. In the last minute of the dying game, a Baumholder halfback ran back the Berlin kickoff for the winning points. The next game was the homecoming game; true to past performance, Berlin tramped Bremerhaven 27-6. Terrell Gandy, versatile Cub quarterback; Buddy North, All-USAREUR end; and Charles Ehrmann, halfback accounted for the points as Berlin never let the Hawks catch a breath.

At halftime, Bitburg had the Cubs 6-0, but the Cubs stormed out of the locker room with blood in their eyes to score two touchdowns and a safety on passes by Salisbury. As the gun went off, the scoreboard read — Berlin 15, Bitburg 14.

The next game was the clincher, when Salisbury ran one touchdown and passed for three others to bring Karlsruhe to their second defeat.

Defeat finally caught up with the wild Cubs with the Ehrmann brothers gone and Buddy North incapacitated by an injured ankle. The hot Bremerhaven Hawks ran over the weakened, weary Cubs 21-6.

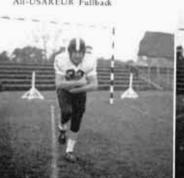

over the weakened, weary Cubs 21-6.
The Cubs, Class C Champions, filled four slots on the All-USAREUR team: Sandy Salisbury, Lee Ewing, John Arnold, and Buddy North. North, a terrific pass receiver, was also in the running for All-Europe honors. This year the Berlin Cubs were truly a Cinderella team — moving from underdogs to become champions for the second year in a row.

Time, a small word, but four letters that regulates our entire lives — 1960 is time. It's the beginning of a new decade. Time has brought many changes to the "Port City" of Bremerhaven, both in the school, and community, change in port command, new faculty members, a larger student body, improvements in the physical plant, and last but not least, a new teen-club.

Time, the past, present and future: we have lived the past. We are a part of the present, and we of Bremer-haven hope we have contributed to the future.

With the speed of a hawk in flight, we entered our freshman year prepared for many new experiences. First — "Freshman Initiation Day," when we had to be the slaves of all other students; but we might add we had fun. Our first big responsibility was sponsoring the dance, "Autumn Leaves." As we wing our way through the remainder of the year, we are constantly reminded that our journey has just begun.

A Senior gets the royal treatment from some lowly freshmen.

SOPHOMORES

The sophomores were well represented in all the school activities this year. Their contributions were made to the football and basketball teams, and also to the cheerleaders. They provided the vice-president for the Student Council and have members on the publications staff. Their main project was the Valentine Dance which was a great success.

Junior class officers are Beverly Daniel, Secretary-Treasurer; Ann Brownewell, Vice-President; and Rick Ward.

Encouraged by the fact that they are the largest junior class in the history of Bremer-haven High School, these students soon made their presence known by being well represented in all school activities.

With the coming of spring we find these eager beavers preparing for the year's biggest event, "the Junior-Senior Prom."

SENIORS

The senior class began the year by electing class officers Bill Thompson, Bill Cameron, Paul Douglas, and Becky Ratliff. We also began to plan ways of making money for a senior trip, which had to be taken on our own time. One of our first money-making schemes was the senior raffle. The prizes were: a camera, tape recorder and ten dollars. The raffle raised nearly all the money we needed. To raise the rest we sponsored two other large activities: the Senior-Faculty basketball game and the senior plays. Both were successes.

The class was well-represented in the various activities such as football, basketball student council, Letterman's Club, annual and newspaper.

This year has been filled with memorable experiences for the seniors and, although we look forward to the future, we will remember the past and our senior year.

ACTIVITIES

Under the capable supervision of Miss Joyce Fast, faculty advisor, Bremer-haven's Student Council has served as a bridge between students and faculty. Along with their regular duties, they have successfully sponsored the Home-coming and Christmas dances. Congratulations for a job well done.

Clean-up detail for the annual staff — Get busy, Katie!

The annual staff, headed by Celeste Bonsignore, just made last minute dead lines this year with a couple people working like mad. The staff started out quite large, but dwindled as time went on. However, after overcoming two great difficulties the Yearbook Conference was attended. Beverly Jackson and her newspaper staff produced some of the craziest school papers ever, but they couldn't have been enjoyed more. Everyone was always eager to get the new edition.

To Bremerhaven, the basketball season produced better results. In all of the first three games the Blackhawks moved ahead to emerge victorious over their opponents by a small margin. Later the team was beaten twice but came back for another victory against Bitburg. However, Bremerhaven again took two losses which evened things up. At the end of the season, they had scored about the same number of wins as losses. All of the games were well played, and well supported by the students in the cheering section.

HOMECOMING

Eager BHS students attend the bonfire.

The Homecoming was a big thrill for everyone at BHS. For the first time a big dummy, representing our opposing team was strung up on the flag pole as a warning to Berlin. Later that night at the bonfire, which was a result of the Seniors hard work, the dummy was cast into the fire. This must have been the right thing to do because Bremerhaven won the Homecoming Game, 21-6, the next day.

The Kings and Queens reigned with dignity at Karlsruhe High School. It has been an important reign, with all the learning, and social activities which accompany our position. We worked hard on our Christmas Dance to which the noblemen and commoners were invited. The biggest dance of the year according to the Seniors was the Graduation Dance, to which only the Seniors and their dates were invited. Of course the play, "Time Out for Ginger," put on by the Kings, Queens, Ladies, and Lords was a great success. Ably guided by our sponsor Mrs. Patton, who has proved to be a friend as well as a teacher, we have left many memories, as well as many lessons, and helped maintain as well as form new traditions for our new kingdom.

Football

One of our greatest accomplishments on the grid iron this year was defeating the Heidelberg Lions, Karlsruhe's greatest rival, in a grueling homecoming game, 7-0. The Knights true spirit came through as they tromped over the Lions despite mud, rain, and cold.

Other victories include Bitburg, 6-0, and Bremerhaven, 26-0. Other scores were 8-21, Augsburg; 12-24, Berlin; and 6-22, Berlin.

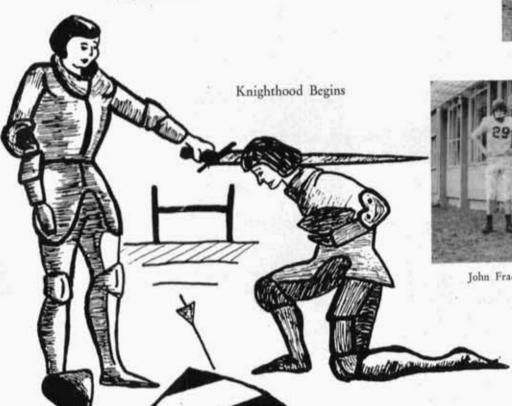

The Knights biggest spark came from Lee Grice, half-back, alias Mr. Touchdown KHS, Mike McKenzie, center, Tony Iorio, end, and Lee Lagerstrom, tackle, all of whom made All USAREUR.

Karlsruhe Knights

For inter-school tournaments the bold Knights fought bravely and fairly with the capable aid of Coach Grzadzielewski. This year the Knights had only three returning lettermen, Bob Nelson, Bob Vinson, and Doug Nelson. New boys who showed promise were Mike McKenzie, Joe Hunt, John Fradella, and James Farmer. The Knights were in a new league this year, and even though they were the smallest in this league they made a very good showing.

We are proud of our Troubadours, for on many occasions they performed for school assemblies. Although the chorus started out with only four members, enthusiasm and able leadership soon attracted many more people and by the time they performed for the December PTA, they were in full force of thirty five. There were other successful performances which we all enjoyed. Among these were the Rhineland Service Club program, singing with other schools and entertaining for the people in our area.

Wise men and sorcerers kept the records of the changing of events whether it be that of the stars or some historical happening. In our modern age the annual staff is taking this job of laying down events for the generations of the future.

Remember the Student Council elections modeled after the national conventions . . . remember the football games, the victorious basketball games, the tournaments, too. Oh, yes there was also the Christmas Formal; and all other class dances, buses to away-games, and we musn't forget the wonderful Junior-Senior Prom, and the graduation of the Senior Class. These are dear memories of 1960. But, remember who was responsible for those memories . . . the Orleans American High School Faculty. Encouraged by our principal, Mr. Grenda, always together the students and faculty of O.H.S. shared their own experiences as to gain a greater knowledge of our surrounding world of treasures. Though the relationship among us was an enjoyable one, we never failed to rate education as the only goal before us. Years from now, when our careers are firmly established, we will recall with gratitude the faculty behind it all. And with this humble word, we express our appreciation . . . Thanks, Faculty.

SENIORS

As the school bus approached, it was strange to see that all the Seniors were waiting eagerly yet patiently to board it. While we rode toward the familiar school building, it was with serious thought that we envisioned the coming school year. Upon entering the green halls of O.H.S. we knew only too well that the feeling we experienced was new to us. It was much like that of a child on his first day of school, but ours was mingled with the maturity of a young adult. The realization that with the closing of the school year we would be on our own somewhat frightened us and awakened in us the knowledge of the responsibility we were to undertake. This responsibility was combined with a sense of leadership and prestige each time we took our places at the head of the student body at assemblies, fulfilled our duties as lunchroom monitors, or sat at our private tables in the cafeteria. Our year was an altogether enjoyable and unforgettable one, and it seemed to pass faster than any before it. The crowning highlight of the year was, of course, the Junior-Senior Prom, which was immensely successful, thinks to the untiring efforts of the Junior Class. Commencement was a time of joy and sadness - a beginning of the longer road ahead and an end to a journey of achievement.

We have accomplished a journey of achievement. We have met here from all parts of the world and have strived together in an endless bond for the glory of O.H.S. The ties which were once acquaintances have grown into true friendships.

And so, as the year draws to a close and our voyage at O.H.S. is done, we turn our backs on Orleans and face our new course in life, but our thoughts will never cease to dwell on the proud and memorable years which were our life at O.H.S.; our journey - - perhaps our best.

Proud of the fact that we were finally upperclassmen we proved to the rest of the school that we had justly earned the title. Bursting with plans, pep, and anticipation the class as a whole took part in almost all activities, did well scholastically, and truly encouraged school spirit and general good will. Several of our classmates were inducted into the National Honor Society; we contributed star basketball and football players. The competition between classes was keen this year but profitable in the long run for it made all of us, especially the juniors, work to the fullest of our abilities. Money, always a huge problem and the cause of needless anxiety, was constantly in the back of our minds but through activities such as the Football Homecoming Dance, New Year's Masquerade, and cake sales we earned enough to put on the traditional Junior-Senior Prom in the spring. Due in great part to the close co-operation of the class members and valuable advice of our two sponsors, Miss Janice Markle and Mr. Charles Jackman to whom we give our warmest thanks, the prom was quite a success.

The class of 1961, will probably never forget this exciting and eventful year. We hope that the projects and privileges usually associated with the senior year will bring us as much pleasure and satisfaction and as many memorable moments as did our accomplishments during the course of this school year.

SOPHOMORE

Having traveled successfully through our long-to-be-remembered freshman year, we returned to O.H.S. last September, ready, willing and able to make our sophomore year even better. It would seem that our many efforts have been rewarded.

Our work began with a cake sale, the first of many to come. It continued in the form of the Sadie Hawkins Dance, complete with Lil'Abner, Daisy Mae, and Marryn' Sam, which turned out to be a great success. On through the year we worked, to build up our class treasury in order to finance the sophomore picnic and the senior reception.

We're proud of what the sophomores have contributed to the school this year, both individually and in groups. They have entered clubs and activities wholeheartedly. One of the most pleasant surprises of the year was the debut of "The Twilights", a group of sophomore girl vocalists who have added greatly to the enjoyment of school dances and parties.

For all we have accomplished, we feel we owe gratitude and appreciation to our class sponsors, Miss Havorka, and Mr. Constantin.

Having reached the half-way mark of high school, we are anxiously looking to our Junior year.

SENIOR HIGH STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council for the school year 1959—1960 got off to an excellent start with the election of Myron McAfee as president, Ed Anderson as vice-president, Betty Ann McClain as secretary and Carolyn Shearin as treasurer.

For the first time in the history of Orleans High, nomination conventions modeled after those held in the United States precede the actual elections. At the close of two days of spirited campaigning the final elections took place. First on the agenda was a Senior-Faculty Football Game, given by the Council. The Faculty proved triumphant with a 7-0 victory over the sad Trojans. In January the Council sponsored the sale of "Booster Cards" which permitted free entry to all of the home basketball games. The cards sold for $1.00 and the proceeds were used for a team trip to the tournaments in Germany.

The Student Council Convention in Verdun marked the close of a highly successful year. The April convention was of great help to the attending Council members who saw an even more promising year ahead at Orleans High School.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

In its travel on the rough and complex sea of life, the Orleans chapter of the National Honor Society was guided by four bright stars of scholarship, leadership, character, and service. Its aims began to be realized with the induction of new members who held these same principles as their own guiding lights.

This organization's accomplishments included the publication of a high school scholastic, social, and athletic record each marking period; provision of a hall monitoring system; administering of make-up tests; and other valuble aids. The climax of our program was the impressive induction of new members in March.

After much hard work and outstanding co-operation our edition of Souvenirs began to take shape. Eager to put our ideas to work, we started the year by voting on "journeys" as our theme.

Our first project was to start a compaign advertising the annual sales. This was done by stamping the napkins at the cafeteria, making posters and contacting the students personally. Next the annual staff studied the previous Erinnerungen to obtain valuable tips before actually starting the layout work. A business staff was organized to be in charge of all annual sales and picture orders. Activity pictures are submitted by the student body.

Aided by our devoted sponsor, Miss Smithwick, who occassionally found herself burning the midnight oil, our Annual was finally completed.

It was with great pride, that the annual staff presented the finished copy to the co-editors and sponsor the day they left for the annual conference in Germany. Thus our semester of annual class ended with a true feeling of accomplishment and satisfaction.

NEWSPAPER

While walking down the halls of Orleans High School, TROJAN reporters could be seen on the alert for any and all items of interest, which could later be presented to the students in the form of the printed word. The school year of 1959-60 was the TROJAN'S sixth year of informing the student body monthly of all the activities of clubs, wins, and losses of both varsity and junior varsity athletic teams, and other happenings concerning our school. The advice and past experiences of Miss Rich, the newspaper's sponsor, was in every way helpful and improved the style and form of the Orleans TROJAN. The staff wrote numerous articles which, naturally, became better as new experience and techniques were adopted. The editor-in-chief, Carolyn Shearin, wrote inspiring editorials on such subjects as "school spirit", "togetherness", and "status seekers". One popular addition to the TROJAN, which was made this year, was Artie Shaw's caricatures of both teachers and students illustrating interviews of those persons particularly admired in O.H.S. Other favorite features were the fashion column, the gossip column, and the sports editorial. Outside contributions were made in the form of poems, short stories, and articles by hardworking and ambitious students.

This year, the TROJAN and its staff successfully attained their goal, to bring all newsworthy events to the attention of each student in Orleans High School.

The Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y are sponsored by the YMCA and the YWCA respectively. Both these organizations are designed to promote Christian character and help its members achieve a more Christian way of living. These clubs are helpful in the school as well as in the community.

This year the Hi-Y has sponsored dances and cake sales. Their annual trip to Paris was in January this year. The trip was a great success.

The Tri-Hi-Y is sponsoring an orphanage and have visited them, giving presents and food that they had collected. Their trip this year will also be to Paris where they will see all its famous landmarks.

The Orleans Varsity Chorus was composed of high school students who, having had some previous experience in choral music, were willing to give up their lunch hours to rehearse. Music of all types was sung, from popular music up the ladder to the perhaps more difficult classical pieces.

Several concerts were given during the year, these being highlighted by exchange concerts with neighboring French High Schools and a thoroughly enjoyable trip to Chateauroux, a nearby American High School. A fine spring program was also offered into which went much hard work and planning.

The chorus was not confined to purely musical activities, however. Near the close of the school year a program was enacted to initiate funds for the purchasing of new choir robes for the future members of the organization.

The school year ended with every member of the group with a new knowledge of the concepts of truly fine choral music.

F. H. A.

Aided by our competent sponser, Miss Schermerhorn, FHA has emerged on a whirlwind of activities.

Our main objective is family fitness. This subject includes discussions with elementary school children about good health.

Bi-weekly cake and cookie sales, a delicious way of earning money aided us to take our long-awaited trip to Paris where we saw a fashion show.

Another money maker was our babysitting program - we watched children while their parents attended P. T. A. meetings. Newer and easier techniques of cooking and sewing were demonstrated to us by various members of the club.

Our motto for this year has been: "Toward New Horizons".

After an uncertain beginning, the Orleans Debating Club has expanded and become an integral part of Orleans High School. At our first meeting we had a large turn-out and found ourselves blessed with an abundance of talent. Our sponsor, Mr. Constantine, who had had no previous experience in debating, proved to be a wonderful coach. He did an excellent job of developing our talents and placing us on teams to compete with other high schools in our area. The topic for the first semester was: resolved, that total world disarmament should be adopted immediately. We participated in two debates on this subject, at the first we were hosts to the Chateauroux debating team and at the second, we traveled by bus to Poitiers. There is a round robin, which will be held at the Chateauroux High School and which will be the last of our debates on disarmament.

The second semester, we will be debating on labor management, which we have already begun work on. We have shown continued improvement and we placed second in the tournament at Chateauroux. Those of us who were just learning are now well versed in the debating methods, and we hope that we will be able to win all debates in the second semester.

FRANCO AMERICAN CLUB

The Franco-American Club was organized in late October and got into full swing in early December.

Several meetings were held before Christmas with both French and American students attending. The French students were shown through our high school during one of these meetings.

The goal of the Franco-American Club is to promote good relations and better understanding between the young people in our two countries. We can truly say our goal has been sighted through visits to schools and to homes and through the many strong friendships that have resulted from a most successful year.

This group, composed of high school girls who took music during the school day, performed admirably at many of the concert programs which were given during the year. The quality of this group was such that they gave a special concert at the request of the Officer's Wives Club. They sang music which specially arranged for female groups and also added much to the combination girls and boys glee club. During the year any audience hearing this group was assured of hearing music rendered with the fineness that only girls possess.

BOYS GLEE CLUB

Take a group of high school boys, some novices, some relatively well grounded in vocal music submit them to an enthusiastic instructor one hour a day, three days a week. Give them good music to sing and education concerning how to sing it and the result would probably be close to the Orleans Boy's Glee Club. Whether the music was classic or popular, Brahms or Boogie Woogie one may be assured that the boys did their best and one may also be assured that much was learned and great experience was gained during the course of the year.

This year being the first year that Orleans American High School has had a Drama Class, it really went places. Meeting sixth period, and lead by Mrs. Edythe Durie, we took an enlightening journey into the world of amateur show-business, following the well-beaten paths to being actors, actresses, critics, director, and stage managers, plus having to do make-up and fashion our own costumes. Our first and biggest success of the year was "Great Smokies", a hillbilly farce written by LeRoma Gerth. The stage was built by the members of the Drama Class. "Great Smokies" was presented to two enthusiastic audiences, one made of junior high students and the other of senior high school pupils. Besides helping out at the Thanksgiving program and other such functions, the Drama Class was scheduled to present "Minor Miracle" early in 1960 at one of the P.T.A. meetings.

SENIOR BAND

The Senior Band under the untiring instruction of Miss Janice Markle, had a very busy and varied musical year. The band performed for the Student Council campaigns, the P.T.A., the Football Homecoming, pep assemblies, and basketball games. They also played for the Thanksgiving program and combined with the other music groups to present the Christmas program. The spring schedule included the Band Follies and exchange concerts with Chateauroux. Election of officers was held soon after the forming of the band in September and resulted in the following: Ed Anderson, president; Mike Short, vice-president; Janie Roberts, secretarytreasurer. Awards for selected members were given in the Awards Assembly at the end of the year.

BASKETBALL

John Taylor takes a shot as Jack Curry tries in vain to stop it.

The basketball season began with success for Coach Himes and his boys — a new first string except for two returning lettermen. Paced by high scorers Johnnie Williams and Gus Higgenbotham, OHS mounted up an impressive series of victories. In January we were tied with Chateauroux for first place with a 4—1 record. However, by the end of the season our fortune had changed. We finished third in COMZ competition with a record of 7 wins and 5 losses. Three of our losses were by a single point, one occurring in an overtime against Verdun. Our last game of the season determined whether we would merit a trip to the USAREUR tournaments in Mannheim. Our opponent was league-leading Chateauroux. In a hard-fought, well played game the Chateauroux Sabers defeated us 44—43 in the final seconds. It was a disappointing loss but an exciting game that will be long remembered.

Our sights are set on next year when the experience of this season should be a major factor in our climb toward top spot in COMZ high school basketball.

We six will never forget the October day when the TROJAN announced the results of the tryouts. We felt especially fortunate having been chosen from the many who

We still laugh over our first practice, but under expert leadership we've come far since then. At the beginning of 2nd period every day there appears a mimeographed sheet of information on the nail provided for it outside each classroom door. Lacking a public address system, this is the medium through which club meeting times, picture taking schedules, school rules, and other such notices are announced. These sheets are so familiar to us, we feel they are an integral part of our school life. Some of them are reprinted below. Remember?

Friday, 18 September: One week of school is gone and students are to be congratulated on their appearance and deportment.

Monday, 19 October: Seniors — don't forget your turn as cafeteria monitors.

Friday, 25 September: All boys and girls interested in the tennis tournament should eat lunch at table No. 1 in center mess hall today. Will the members of the masquerade dance committee please eat at the same table in the lunch room. Debating group must meet today at lunch. Debate with Chateauroux tomorrow.

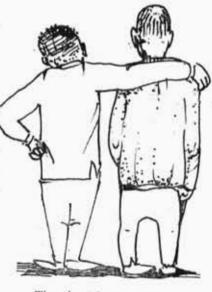

Monday, 18 January: Snowballs will be thrown only in the play area.

Thursday, 12 November: The Boy Scouts and Explorers of the Orleans Area Command are scheduled to sell Christmas trees this year.

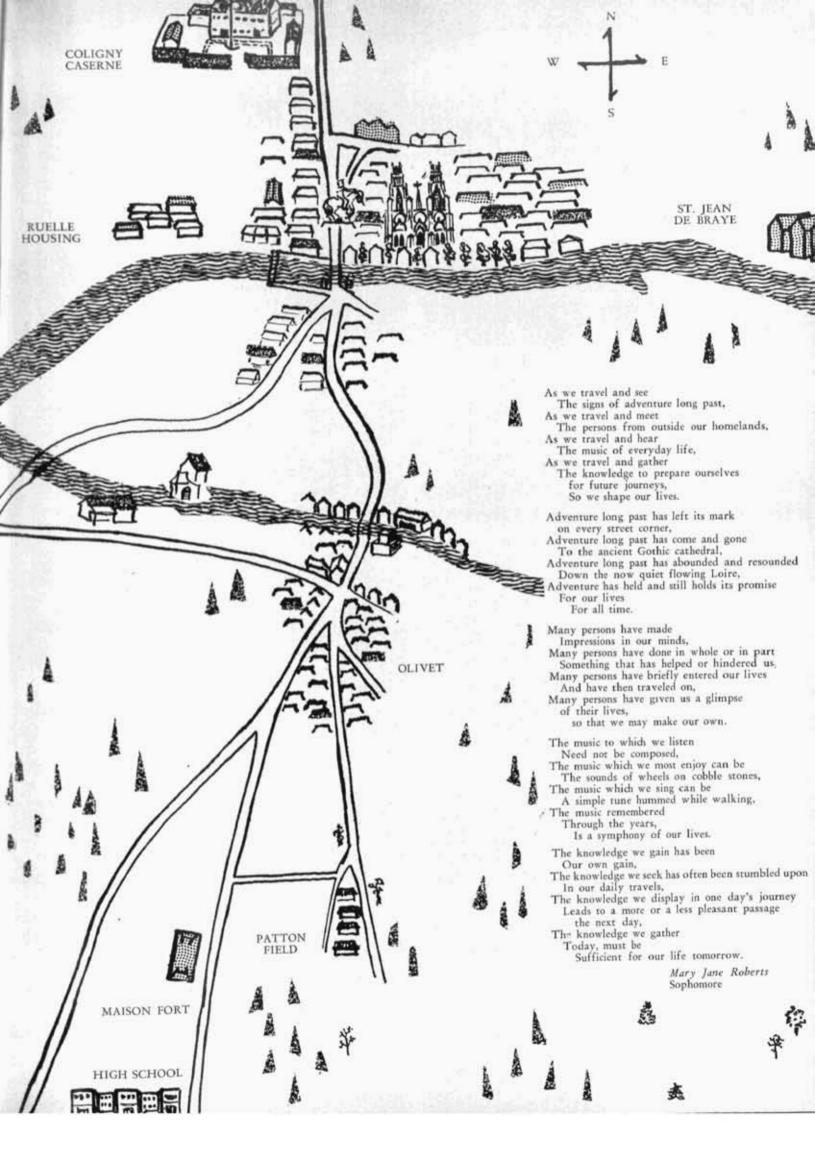

Thursday,7 January: School will be dismissed at 3:20 so that teachers may visit the new school building.

Thursday, 14 January: All Seniors graduating in June meet in Room 8 during the first few minutes of the fifth period for fitting of caps and gowns.

ADMINISTRATION

The foundation supporting the policies and reputation of Paris American High School is the administration staff. Through their efforts, they provide for the social and educational needs of the student body. The responsibility of the mechanism of class-time arrangements, supplies and everything essential to a smoothly operating school has been borne on their shoulders with authority and decisiveness. Without the administration, the framework of our school, its principles, and ideals would topple as a statue deprived of its base.

CLASSES

Paris can be compared to a statue - beautifully planned, the choice of materials in good taste, and each extremely well proportioned. Statues can express the inner most feelings of the artist as each line and curve displays concentrated effort and an attempt for perfection.

Students also aim for perfection as their character and cubbyholes for knowledge are molded on their path through school. Junior high school is the beginning; the statue is an idea soon to become a reality. Freshmen stand on the brink of learning as the sculptor gets the feel of his working material. As sophomores, the once shapeless mass of clay is fashioned into a definite figure and the junior year finds the statue almost complete. As the finishing touches are put on the statue when these formerly undeveloped minds have reached the senior year, the artist hopes that his work will be his masterpiece.

This statue should mean something to you for it is you your character smoothed and shaped by experience and exposure to others and their problems, your desire to learn, inspired by introduction to many different fields of study, and the accumulation of knowledge so diligently strived for during your school years.

Robbie Burm' birthday was not forgotten at P. A. H. S. this year. Jesse Douglas played the pipes for the occasion while his colleague merely wore his plaids.

Senior Snaps

It must have been a good book to keep Tom engrossed with it during Mr. Hull's roll call.

Opps, Roger!!! You're facing the wrong way.

What a way for seniors to start the day!

A full house is on hand to greet Mrs. Carroll as she starts her homeroom period.

This is our last year. Like the statues of Paris, the members of our class are of varied origins. Through the years we have worked and studied together, we have played together, we have taken advantage of the opportunities afforded us by living abroad. We have developed our appreciation and enriched our understanding of our country's place and our own as individuals in the world community.

This is our last year. When we look back over the years that have brought us to 1960 and our graduation, we see many activities, both educational and recreational, that have made these years memorable ones to us all. With pleasure, mirth, sentiment, and perhaps a growing touch of nostalgia, we recall the highlights of our senior year: the freshman initiation, the Christmas Formal, and of course the Prom and graduation.

This is our last year. We should now be ready to step out into the world. Ralph Waldo Emerson once said, "What sculpture is to a block of marble, education is to the soul." As a statue is created from a shapeless body of raw material, so we, as young people on the threshold of maturity, are the result of the development of our natural resources. The creation of a statue and the shaping of the endowed faculties of the mind and spirit both require time, patience, care, skill, and wisdom. Finally, a statue must have a firm foundation, and be properly maintained. Education has given us a firm foundation on which to stand, now it is up to us to maintain that foundation and continue moulding ourselves to the betterment of our lives, our communities, and our country.

We look back over our high school years, reliving vivid memories and thinking of work accomplished in attempt to make our senior year an eventful and productive climax.

As freshmen we stood gawkily, resembling crude pieces of clay ready to be molded by the sculptor's hand. In our second year of high school, inspiration shook the artist; now he prepares to create. Now, as juniors, hopes of the perfect statue gleam in the sculptor's eye. We long await the day when, as seniors, the artist will complete his work.

As amateur sculptors of history at Paris American High School, we juniors hope we have added to the chips of stone so neatly chiseled by the skillful workman.

Provided instantly with clay to work with, our class set a fine pace by giving the Home-coming Dance. Our real artistic ability was displayed in Carnival booths. As every artist looks forward to creating his chef-d'oeuvre, we worked and planned all year toward making the Junior-Senior Prom a night to remember, and a proper tribute to the honored class. Although we all can't be master sculptors, we now realize, thus far in high school, that we can learn to be good apprentices so that we will not be smashed by a sculptor with a chisel mightier than ours.

SOPHOMORES Class of 1962

Sarah Hansen Secretary

Barbara Trimble Treasurer

The sophomore class is somewhat like an unfinished piece of statuary upon which the sculptor cannot decide on the final form. They are traditionally caught between two vastly different types of personality - on one side are the freshmen, rather carefree and perhaps mildly anti-intellectual; and on the other, the juniors and seniors, the upper-classmen, those tending toward studious nature in preparation for a career. Some sophomores tend to be on one side of the line, some on the other; the differences in personality lend a certain amount of interest to the class as a whole. Our sophomore class is such a group.

Our sophomore class has been an active one. It has given dances such as the "Waistline Dance". The class regularly has held cake sales to raise money for next year's activities. Class meeting improved as the year progressed, in terms of participation and things accomplished. Class officers drew up a new constitution; this established a council to govern the activities of the class of 1962.

The unfinished piece of statuary has gradually taken on form and a personality all its own under that wisest of teachers, experience.

Class of 1963 FRESHMEN

Many things go into making a piece of sculpture. For one thing you need a base, and as Freshmen we decided to write a constitution that would serve as that base. Our constitution has given us a more prominent place in the student body by establishing certain procedures to help us with our activities.

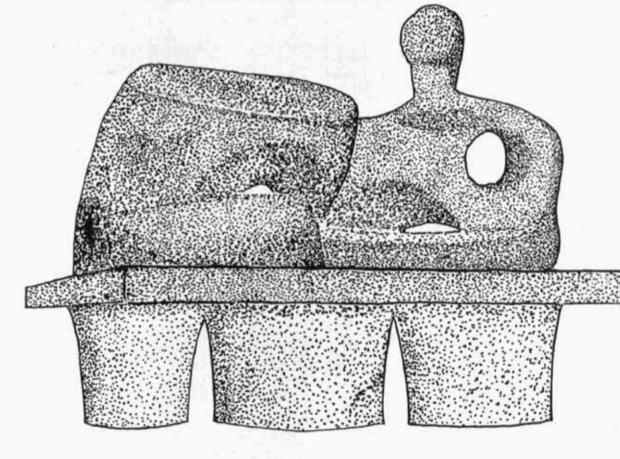

It must be with a great deal of anxiety that a sculptor starts on a work. We awaited initiation with some of that anxiety. Once the ordeal was over, we were able to more fully enjoy the academic, social, and athletic events we participated in this year.

Many other things went into making our invisible statue... things that we can never see, or touch. We will be able to look back on this first year in high school and know that it was designed to make us better citizens in a rapidly shrinking world.

At the Unesco headquarters the massive "Reclining Figure" by Henry Moore symbolizes the vitality of youth in today's world.

RESIDENCE HALLS

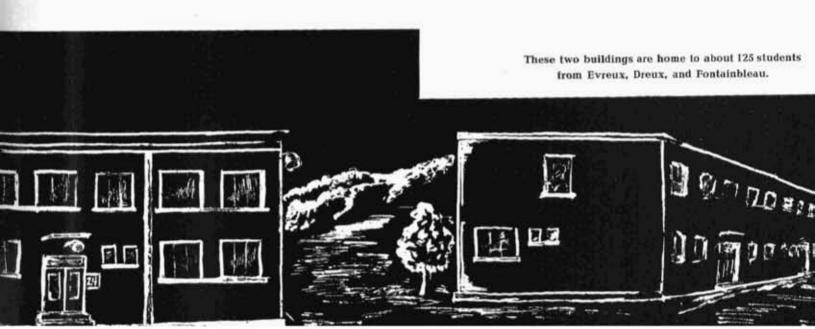

Most of the dorm students participate in a variety of activities. This quartet, composed of Doug Van Arsdale, Steve Singer, Al Campbell, and Doug Land, is working on a jazz arrangement.

The first few days in the Paris dormitory were accompanied by much noise and excitement as pupils checked in from Dreux, Evreux, and Fontainbleau. Students could be seen scurrying around meeting old friends and making new ones. But under the direction of Mr. Griffith, Mr. Ryan, Miss Messmore, and Miss Lynch life soon calmed down with school and its activities the governing factors. By the end of the first quarter students were well adjusted to the dormitory routine.

The main diversion is the night out twice a month. This usually means a movie although often the students are given a chance to see more of Paris at night. A trip to the auto show and to "Madame Butterfly" were but a few of the interesting evening activities.

A change transpired for some junior and senior boys with the arrival of Mr. Corum, a new counselor from Poitiers, in February.

The dorm runs its own snack bar and maintains several student dorm councils which help to set up regulations and maintain a harmonious atmosphere between students and counselors.

YEARBOOK STAFF

To finish, or not to finish, that is the question.

A stroller passing through the Louvre notices many different types of statues... many from different countries and different ages. So too, an observer would notice a variety of activities at Paris American High School. Some are societies devoted to scholarship and learning; some are keyed to the interest of craft work and developing a skill; others are devoted to physical activity. And just as a good statue holds the attention of the observer, so our clubs hold the interest of their members.

STUDENT

Jesse Douglas and Geri Shea relax in one of the Student Council's lighter moments.

As the governing student body of Paris American High School, the Student Council strives for good relationship between the student and the faculty and for accomplishments beneficial to the school. When the first complete meeting took place, Jesse Douglas was chosen chairman, Bonnie Seay as treasurer and Karen Dawalt as secretary. The annual Christmas party for the cafeteria workers was appreciated by all and the Spring conference gave us food for thought and solutions to many problems. Various projects aimed at bettering the student attitudes were carried on throughout the year, and kept us active at all times. As the Student Council books close another year, we hope our work has been satisfactory.

Paris' 1960 football squad lived up to the high standards of sportsmanship which are traditional of Pirate play. Coach Garnett's eleven showed the enthusiasm and spirit that made up for the season's mishaps. Outstanding players were John Foxworth, tackle and captain of the Pirate gridders; Bob Kenny, tackle; and Jerry Hamilton, fullback. The Paris High student body has a right to be proud of the football team.

Despite an accident-plagued season, the Varsity cagers got off to a good start after being downed by Orleans in their initial contest. As the season progressed the Pirate hoopmen improved tremendously and beat Orleans and Verdun twice. Jim and Pete Castleberry, the only returning lettermen, Pete Hidalgo, and last year's JV stars, Dave Nunnekamp and Pat Castelluccio rounded out the starting Pirate five.

Paris continued it's domination of the Com Z track scene by winning the 1959 Com Z Regional Meet for the third straight year. The Pirates, edged out Orleans in a thrilling contest which was undecided until the final event. Paris took first in the 800, the 1600 meter relay, and the broad jump in addition to Zar's efforts; Pat Corcoran, Bill Bliss, Roger Hebner, Ben Sternberg, Todd Weinbrenner, Howard Cole, and Mike Zar all had blue ribbons at the day's end.

The class of 1959 marches out after their graduation. Another year has ended and a new class will take its place in the growing number of P.A.H.S. Alumni.

Another year has passed. Many of us will be leaving Paris, but we will leave with fond memories of our stay here. Where else would we be able to take trips to the Louvre, Hotel Tallyrand, Bibliotheque Nationale, UNESCO, or Montmartre? Where else would we be able to have our prom in the plush elegance of the ballroom in the George V? Where else would we be able to enrich our knowledge of academic subjects with first-hand observation of art, architecture, music, language, and technology as here in Paris?

Have we not strolled the same boulevards that so many great writers, composers, artists, scientists, doctors, and statesmen have trod? Have we not stood in historic spots and felt the pulse beat of past generations who participated in events that greatly changed the course of mankind's struggle? Have we not wondered what our future would hold?

Many of us will be leaving Paris. But the chestnut trees will remain, so will the monuments, and the imposing buildings, and the bridges over the Seine, and the statues. Yes, the statues will remain to greet us as old friends when next we visit this majestic city.

Eternal portals
Imposing spires...
The grave saints
And grinning ghouls
The door lies open,
Beckoning to all
And the carved figures
Look on with countenances of passiveness...
Frozen in tranquility
They seem to speak
And the very world halts...

Child, hear us, for the doors are yet open.
Enter therein, and find,
For life has not yet closed thine eyes
Nor hast thou lost thy youthful face:
The sun yet rises upon thee...

These doors are but the first of many corridors Myriad and intertwining, All thy dreams lie within... The dark wind of coldness blows about the doors.
But inside one ages in peace.
Strolling through the vaults
And frescoed archways,
Seeking a certain room
And finding another
And wondering in the basic beauty of it...

Child, hear us, for the doors are yet open.

All the hopes of years and planning are woven

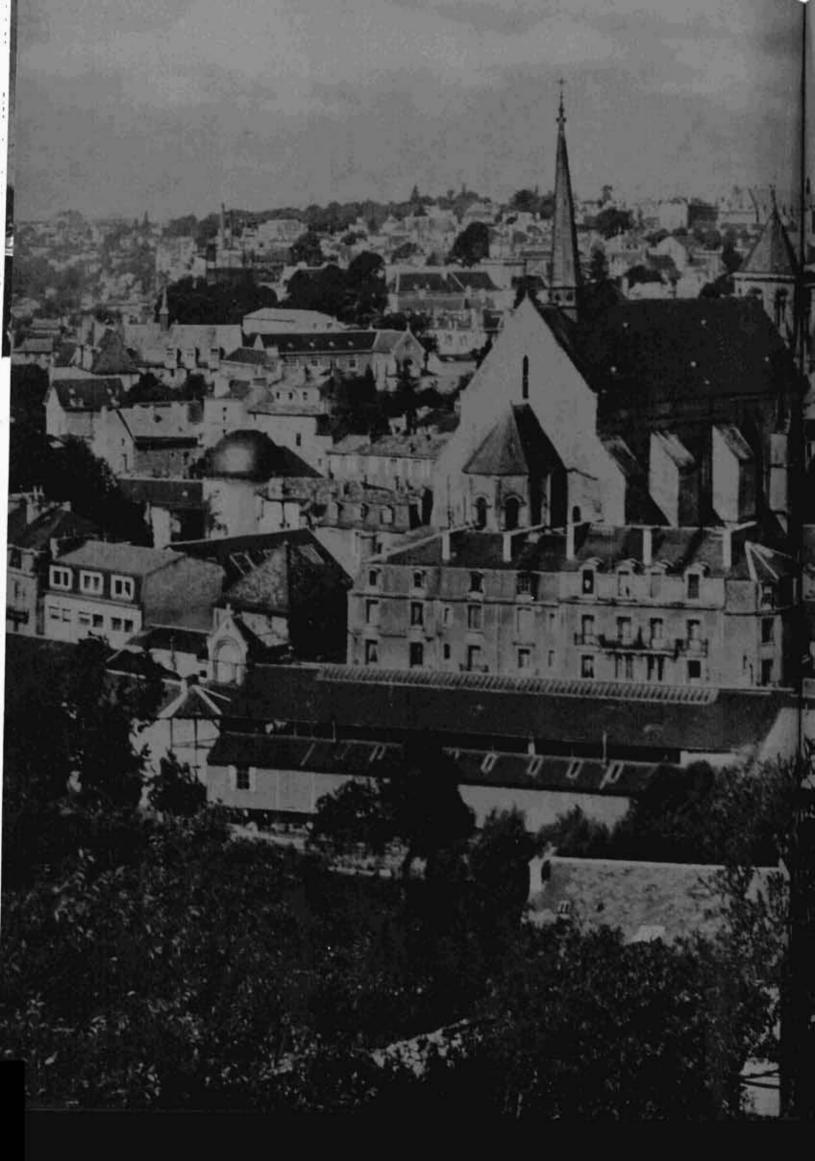

And mankind is wanting new reinforcements...

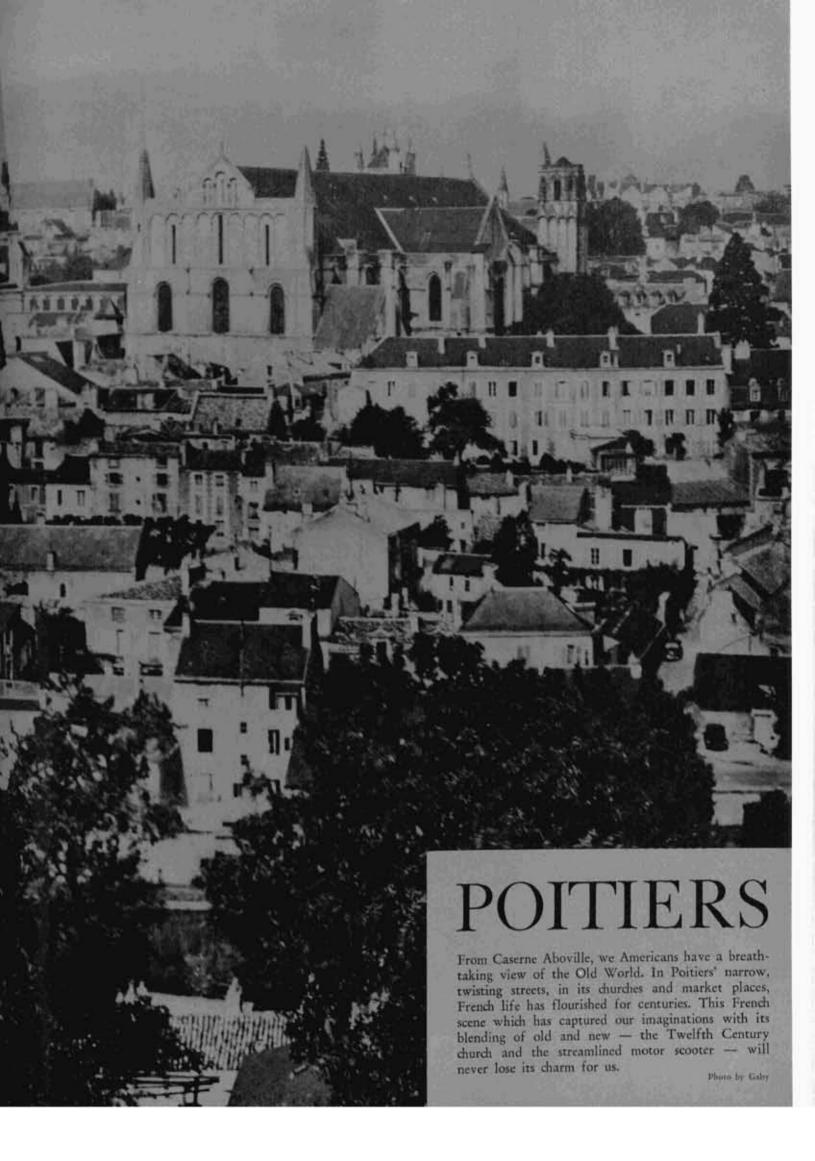

For life has not yet turned her back

As we gaze upon you in this hour of thy coming,

While the sun still rises upon thee.

We seniors sponsored the Christmas Formal at the Officers' Club the night of December 16th.

It was one of the best dances that we can remember.

We got to bed late but happy. Unhappily, we had to get up early for classes.

These are some of the smiling teachers we greeted sleepily the next morning: Mr. Kling, Mr. Peterson, Miss Crandall and Miss Black.

JUNIORS

Early in the year the PTA raffled off an Austin-Healey Sprite. We juniors luckily swelled our treasury by selling a greater number of tickets than any of the other classes. This windfall helped insure the success of some important events which we sponsored, such as Homecoming and the Junior Prom. We shall always remember the Homecoming Dance. Queen Lynn Anderson carried a magnificent bouquet of white chrysanthemums and reigned from a white throne. She was attended by, among others, Juniors Linda Bennett and Bootsie Carlos. Names of the football players were written on black panthers and white footballs. These cutouts were scattered on the walls, and streams of crepe paper led from them to a big cluster of balloons in the center of the ceiling. All who were present had a great time.

SOPHOMORES

Our class had the highest enrolment in school. And not only did we have numbers, but we like to think that the things we put on really went. The Sadie Hawkins' Day dance, for example. We decorated the "rec" hall with hay, pumpkins and cornstalks. It seemed as though everybody came and everybody had his fill of popcorn, Coke, and kicking up his heels. We are still talking about it.

We began our freshman year looking forward excitedly to a gay social whirl and the making of many friends. Suddenly we awoke to the fact that we were snowed with work and that we were busier than we had ever thought possible. We have squeezed some fun in between assignments, but the "whirl" has not always been as gay as we expected.

SCHOOL SCENES

Chuck O'Brien, Bootsie Carlos, Sterling Thomas, Darrell Moody and Brenda LaCoste lunch in the mess hall.

Robert Weeks, Hans Bader, Eugene Davis, Klaus Buncutter and LeRoy Rhode leave the snack bar.

The yell team leads a cheer at the pep rally before the Orleans game.

Lydia Martinez and Ramon Rodriguez live it up at the Christmas Formal.

Mrs. Langlois and Mr. Jordheim instruct members of the Dance Club.

Chester Yingst shows off his best Dogpatch style to Gail Kingstedt at the Sadie Hawkins' Day dance in the 'rec" hall.

SCHOOL SCENES

See, Peggy Trier doesn't chew her nails. The moment of the slow walk to morning classes.

Now is the time Miss Schwitters comes to the aid of . . . her Personal Typing class.

Mike Lynn, Jerry Berardi, LeRoy Rhode, George Nixon, Mr. Aldridge and Dan Powell take it easy in the dorm.

John Dunmar and Jim Copeland are stunned by Jim Williams' logic during the debate with Chateauroux.

Chris Muniz, Connie Gibbs, Phyllis Brader and Charles Sherwood are served by Art Sayre and LeRoy Rhode in the "rec" hall.

The helicopter gets set to lift the Christmas "tree" to the top of the water tower.

The mixed choir is directed by Mr. Elmore during the Christmas program in the auditorium.

Coach Kling gives a pep talk in the auditorium before the Orleans game.

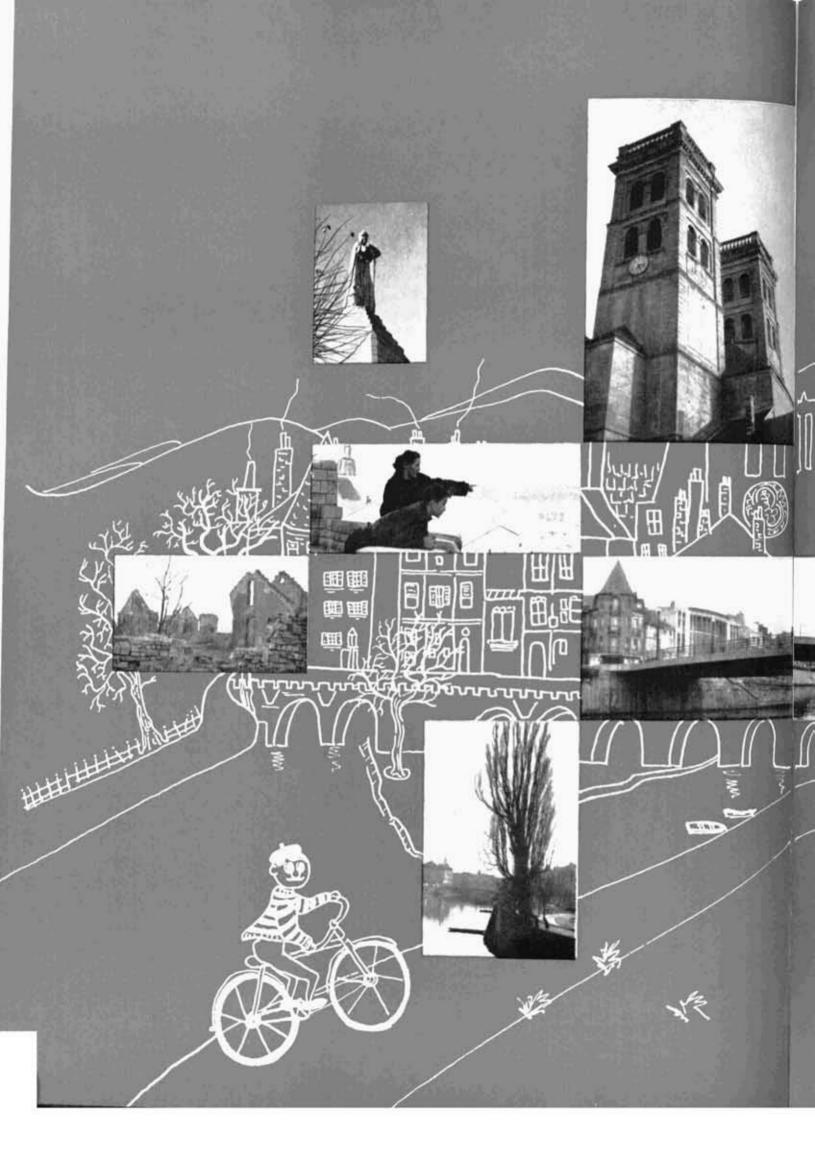

Everybody sings carols with the choir during the Christmas program. Especially Miss Crandall appears to be in good voice.

Paitiers

Time passes on, changing the world and its inhabitants. Yet the Port Chaussee remains the same - a symbol of the birth of a great city. Verdun. It is a souvenir that has stood the trials and tribulations of history - a door of the past and present, a door of the future...

The music was playing sweet and low while people were swaying too and froo.

FRESHMAN CLASS

As soon as the Class of 1963 arrived at Verdun, they eagerly went about to make their first year a memorable one. Enough money was raised through cake sales to finance a St. Patrick's Day Dance.

With the Porte Chausie in the background, Pat Lucus and Garry Mace cement international relations with a canine citizen of Verdun.

At left below, five freshman bow low to the seniors during freshman hazing. At right two freshman are receiving crew-cuts from seniors.

The Porte Chausie, symbol of Verdun, was built five centuries ago as one portal of the ancient city walls. According to story, it served as the inspiration for the Corps Insignia of the U.S. Army Engineers. At left, the towers as viewed from the banks of the River Meuse. Above, the cobblestoned Rue Chausie as viewed from beneath the towers.

SEVENTH GRADE

Seventh Graders are really weighted down as they walk to class.

The seventh Grade found this school a very challenging one. With Jerry Thames as president, the class plunged wholeheartedly into various activities. One of its most important projects was the planning and presenting of assembly programs.

Under the supervision of Miss Virginia McClary and Miss Elizabeth Young, the Seventh Grade completed a successful year of orientation.

National Honor Society

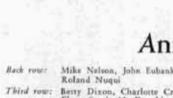

The National Honor Society is dedicated to service, scholarship, leadership, and character.

The Verdun Chapter under the supervision of Miss Mary Ann Monroe has tried to set forth these goals: to promote recognition of scholastic achievement and ability, to give public acknowledgement to those who deserve it, to give a scholarship to a deserving senior. to further the reading of good literature, and to start a student guide service.

Who? Us? Honest, Mr. Wood, we weren't making any noise.

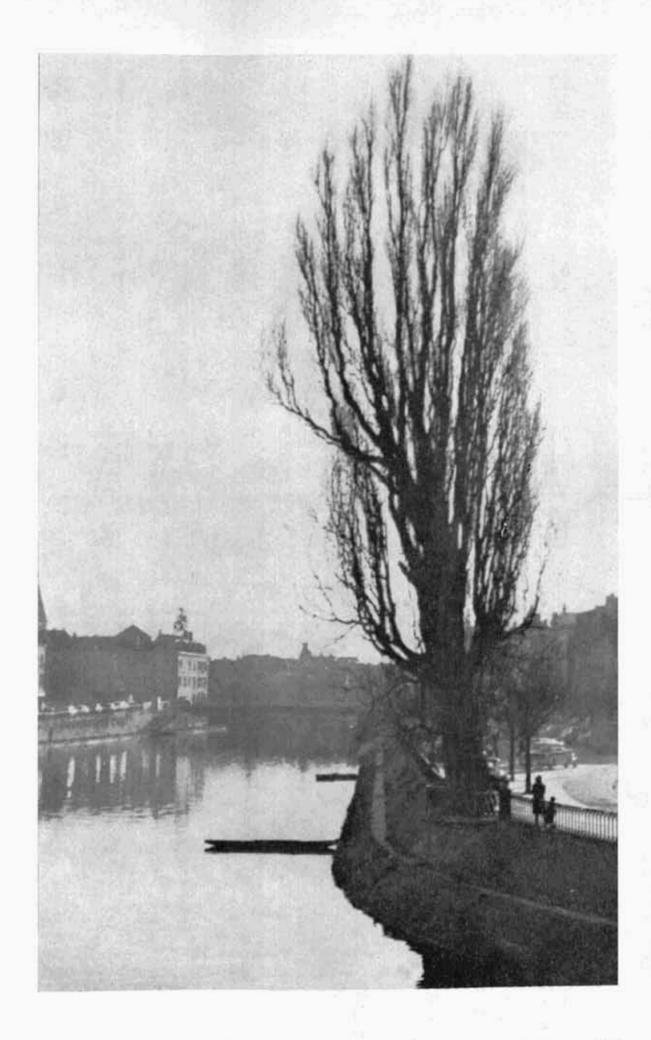

After four long years of high school, Seniors, Garry Mace, Mary Thiesen, Donald Longhurst, and Dee Howard, receive their diplom from Dr. Paul A. Menegat,

Time is marvelous because it teaches a lesson that could not be learned in any other way. It heals the heart and strengthens the mind. It brings the hope that causes people to walk forward with a goal in mind and a dream in their hearts. Time - - a tree with leaves glistening in the sun and rustling in the breeze. Time - - a leafless tree stretching its bare arms toward the sky; stretching so that it might absorb life, the warm rays of the sun.

A tree along the Quai de Londres, on the Bank of the Meuse in the center of Verdun.

FACULTY

Seventeen teachers, twelve new and five old, comprised Würzburg's faculty. Mr. Holmberg was welcomed back and Miss Orleans joined the faculty in the middle of the year to take the ailing Miss Leman's place, Mrs. Duncan, in addition to her regular duties, was given the task of teaching senior career planning. She should be recovered in time for the next school term!! Mr. White, although new to Würzburg, was certainly not new to USAREUR schools, as was shown in his handling of the problems which are peculiar to Army institutions. Of course, he had Elizabeth Lockner as his "Girl Friday." I doubt if anyone could have gotten along without Liz or the rest of the faculty, for that matter.

After much debate over method of election, Würzburg's six cheerleaders (one more than last year) were finally chosen. Returning to the squad from last year are Jeanne Jellison, captain, Judy Smothermon and Sonja Elliot. Jean and Joan, the Covington twins, moved up to varsity from their J.V. positions, and Peggy Doyle began her first year of cheering at Würzburg. The football schedule gave the girls the opportunity to cheer at only four games: Heidelberg, Munich, Mannheim, and the Homecoming Game with Augsburg. The basketball season gave us the first glimpse of the J.V.'s, and gave the varsity a real chance to show what they could do at a series of home games during school time.

Nothing could stop Würzburg's eleven except Mannheim!!! Yes, it really was a pity that after a glorious season, the Wolves had to be defeated in their last game.

All in all it was quite a successful season, since the

Harold Fiedler defeat by Mannheim was only the second in three years. Class "A" Munich was certainly surprised when "little" Würzburg ran roughshod over them

Because of the occasion and the score, the Homecoming Game with the Augsburg Apaches, Würzburg's rival for many years, was the most exciting game of the season. After the Mannheim game we knew we'd have to split the championship with Nürnberg. Well, co-championship is better than no championship!

Front rew: Bruce Bauman, Tex Osborne, Bob Covington, Steve Lewis, Paul Stapelton, Rafael Cruz

Steve Lewis

After Würzburg's winning the co-championship in football, you'd think they'd get discouraged after losing more games than they'd won. But Coach Pearson's motto, "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again," must have rubbed off on the boys. Every point made by the opposing team was earned; every game won by them was hardfought-for. The wolves played a schedule of fourteen games. The first string was picked out of the fourty-six boys who tried out at the first of the season. The first string consisted of Bob Covington, center, Steve Lewis, forward, Rafael Cruz, guard, Bruce Bauman, guard, and Paul Stapleton, forward. Alternating with the first string were Tex Osborne and Ken Haynes.

HOMECOMING

Jean, Jeanne, and Sonja look a little wind blown after receiving their flowers.

Not to be outdone was co-captain Bob Covington who escorted Sonja Elliott, court member. Despite injuries from the game, Bob managed a few dances with lovely Sonja. Smiling Jean Covington, the other court member, came with Wayne Mayo and shared the reign with Jeanne and Sonja.

The Kitzingen Combo enhanced the theme, AUTUMN LEAVES, with their music.

Brigitte and Bill pose happily for the photographer. Having fun, kids?

It is amazing how the camera caught Wayne as he sped by on his 87 yard touchdown run.

Doug's toothy grin puts Peggy's sweet smile to shame.

Don't lick the microphone, Gene!

Marsha and Dick, two "short-timers".

Jean and Wayne look a little startled, but seem to be having fun.

Smiling Tony, whirls his pretty Queen, Jeanne around the floor.

CREATIVE OPPORTUNITIES

This section of four pages is an experiment. For the first time in any volume of the ERINNERUNGEN a place has been set aside for student writings and art work. Pieces of student work that have been sent into the office of the Art and Crafts Specialist, Yearbook Coordinator, (who has made the selection of the efforts that appear here) may well provide an opening into the possibility of individual school efforts toward the publication of similar works within their own school. At the same time, these pages may well serve as the autograph pages for the 1960 ERINNERUNGEN.

ADOLESCENCE

Adolescence is the time when the listening audience is termed: "Ladies and Gentlemen", instead of "Boys and Girls". It is the time when the late movie is available, but The price is raised. One is now able to visit sick and ailing relatives, If only for the priviledge of getting into the "over 12 ward". For the first time one is suddenly in need of a Chaperone for a party. Allowance is raised to comply with the Shyly-publicized girl friend. Books on traffic rules and signals suddenly become very Absorbing, and the Family car has never been kept in better condition. This is the age of the wheel. The big wheel, The adolescent. Carol Weir

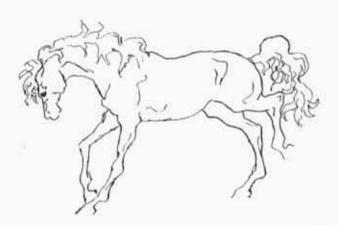

ADOLESCENCE was written by Carol Weir, grade 12, readent of Mr. Sanders in the Kaiserslautern American High School. The block print was completed by Julie Harris, age 17, grade 12, student of Mr. Ed Johnson in the Paris American High School.

FREEDOM

I'm a child of the wind, the tide, and the sea;
I'm a part of the air, the sky and the tree;
I was born to laugh in the sun, and the rain
And never to hear of a fence, or a chain.
Let me be free; let me run; let me play,
Let me be free to sing, to dance and to be gay.
Don't try to trap me; let me fly free
Freedom's the password; FREEDOM is me!

Francoise Y. Darcq

FREEDOM was written by Francoise Y. Darcq, age 16, grade 11, student of Mrs. Carroll in the Paris American High School. The pen and ink drawing was created by Cathy Mc Connell, age 17, grade 12, also of Paris American High School and student of Mrs. Ed Johnson.

ASPIRATION

Walking along the seashore — Just you and me;

Writing love notes in the sand — Just you and me.

Some day we'll find our Enchanted Island, Some day we'll find our Enchanted Sea, Some day we'll find happiness together —

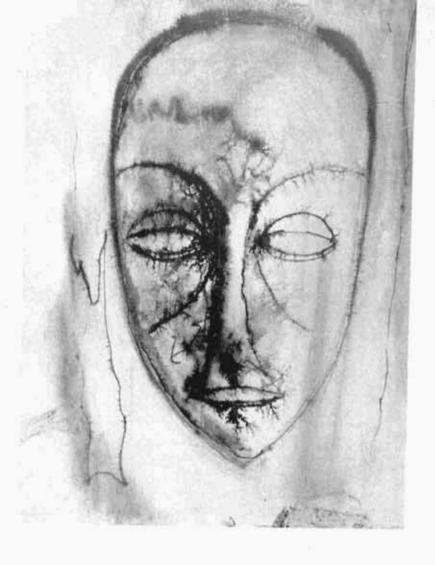

Just you and me.

Robert Gatty

ASPIRATION was written by Robert Gatty, age 17, grade 12, student of Miss Rotter in the Verdun American High School. The pen and inh drawing of the girl and her dog was completed by Janice Brandewie, age 16, grade 11; the brush and ink drawing of the boy and his dog was completed by Patricia Lawlor, age 15, grade 10. Both Patricia and Janice are atudents of Mr. McClintock in the Stuttgart American High School.

CONVERSATION WITH THE FOG AT VERDUN

Lonely and free as a ghost Wandering without thought before the wind. Heart forlorn, lying wherever a barrier stops your course. Crying, seeping your way, Always stopping, spreading your majesty on all,

Conquering goals.

I sit sullen in the deepest part of your fold.

Stoop. Conquer. Spare me not, you emperor of the souls of men.

At your wandering I am led by ghost and spirit Until, piercing your folds, leering shadows meet my eyes: I see the men who gave their part To save this land and lead me out of my life. Fiery, shell-torn torrents, body debris and dust. "We're almost taken!" I hear a voice cry. Looking, I see men fall; men cower and cry. O' but to cry and wrench the fear from out of the fog When time is spent and you know that soon in the bleak you'll lie.

Softly, softly loosen your longing for the ground and creep away.

Gordon Sorenson

CONVERSATION WITH THE FOG AT VERDUN was written by Gordon Soremon, age 16, grade 11. The writing was submitted by Mr. James Richardson, Boys' Dormitory Counselor at the Verdun American High School, The ink drawing on wet paper was completed by Cathy Mc Connell, age 17, grade 12, student of Mr. Ed Johnson in the Paris American High School.
