3.	NANCY:	Then why did they bring all the rest of the players along?
Ly	GEORGE:	They're substitutes they stay around just in case someone
5		gets hurt.
6	NANCY:	But they all look pretty good to me. I think we'd have more e p		of a chance to win, if Coach Kyrios would send the rest of
8		our men on the field.
9	GRORGE;	But that's not fair. They can't do that. In high school
10		football, they just have six men on each side.
	NANCY;	It doesn't make sense. If you mant to win

14	NANCY:	Why don't they do something?
15	GEORGE:	Huh? Whattaya mean?
16	NANCY:	Well, just look at that! All the other team is way back

18		right through there for a throw em-down!
19	GEORGE:	You mean a touchdown.
20	NANCY:	Yeh. That's it. Why don't they do something while they have
21		a chance?
22	GEORGE;	Can't king you understand, Nancy? They can't run the ball
23		during a time out.
24	NANGY;	(MEEKLY) Can't they even kick it?
25	GEORGE:	(FIRMLY) Not even kick it.

3	NANCY: (EXCITED) Where? This I've gotta see!
L.	GEORGE: They spilled him!
5	NANCY: That's too bad. Say, George where are all the backs?
6	GEORGE: Right down there behind the line.
of	NANCY: Which line? They've got sommany lines drawn on the field.
8	GEORGE: No, Noncy. The "line" is the front row of mon on each side.
9	See? Then the other men behind them are called the "backs".
10	NANCY: Oh, I understand.
11	GEORGE: (SIGHS) That's nice.
12	NANCY: George!
13	GEORGE: Yes, Nency?
24	NAMCY: George, what's that little man right down therethe one
15	with his hands out in front of him?
16	GEORGE: He's the quarterback.
17	NANCY: Oh. Then what's that other man right over there?
18	GEROGE: He's the halfback.
19	NANCY: Oh. Then there ought to be another quarterback!
20	GEORGE: All right I'll bite. Why should there be another quarterback?
21	MANCY: Because a half is worth two quarters!
22	GEORGE: Oh, no!
23	NANCY: What ere they doing now, Geroge?
